

Table of Contents

1	i.	Preamble	2
2	I.	Purpose	5
3	II.	Summary of Relevant Legal Directives	5
4	A.	Federal Water Resource Development Act of 2000	5
5	B.	State Laws Regarding Implementation of CERP	7
6	C.	Water Resource Protection Tools Under State Law	7
7	1.	Reservations.....	8
8	2.	Consumptive Use Permitting	8
9	3.	Minimum Flows and Levels	9
10	4.	Water Shortage Plan.....	9
11	5.	Regional Water Supply Planning Requirements.....	9
12	III.	Conceptual Relationship between Water Supply and Demands for Humans and Natural Systems, Resource Protection Tools and CERP	10
13	III.	Key Concepts in Identifying the Pre-CERP Baseline and Existing Legal Sources of Water.....	11
14	A.	Guiding Principles for Defining the Pre-CERP Baseline and Existing Legal Sources.....	12
15	1.	Background.....	12
16	2.	Guiding Principles and Issues for the Pre-CERP Baseline.....	12
17	B.	Definition of Existing Legal Sources.....	15
18	C.	Spatial Identification of Existing Legal Source User Basins.....	15
19	D.	A Method for Quantifying Existing Legal Sources through the Pre-CERP Baseline.....	16
20	E.	Proposed Procedure for Identifying Impacts to Existing Legal Sources Through PIR Development.....	17
21	V.	Key concepts in Protecting Water for Natural Systems and Human Uses made Available by CERP	18
22	A.	Quantification of Regional Water Availability for Water Supply Service Areas.....	19
23	B.	Implementation of Regional Water Availability through Consumptive Use Permitting Rules	20
24	C.	Establishing a Pre-CERP Reservation of Water for the Environment	21
25	D.	Quantification of Additional Water for Natural Systems and Human Uses Made Available by CERP	21
26	E.	Protection of Additional Water for Natural Systems and Human Uses Made Available by CERP	23
27	VI.	Relationship of Quantification of Water to be Reserved and Operating Manuals.....	24

List of Figures

Figure 1.	Conceptual Relationship Between Water Supply and Demands for Humans And Natural Systems, Resource Protection Tools and CERP	26
Figure 2.	Relationship of Water Resource Protection Tools Under State Law	27
Figure 3.	Spatial Location of Existing Legal Source Basins	28
Figure 4.	Conceptual Volume Probability Curve Concept	29
Figure 5.	Integration of State/Federal Processes for Protection of Natural System Water	30

Appendix

Appendix A. Definitions	32
Appendix B. Water Resource Development Act 2000, Section 601(h)	35
Appendix C. Proposed Guiding Principles and Associated Issues CERP Existing (2000) Condition - Pre-CERP Baseline Issues and Matrix.....	40
Appendix D. Guidance for Project Delivery Teams for Identifying the Amount of Water to be Reserved for the Natural System in the Project Implementation Report Process	46